Galilee's history rich here

of Virginia Union University, became tenth pastor of Galilee. A diligent worker he organized the Pastor's Aid Ladies Club, a Men's Club and addition of a choir room. He resigned in 1945 to devote his time to Union Grove Baptist Church in Buckingham and the public school system in Gretna, Va.
In 1946 the Rev. R.Q. Lawing was called as eleventh pastor of Galilee Baptist Church. A native of Chesterfield County, Va., and a Virginia State graduate, he came to Appomattox in 1982 as a teacher of Vocational Agriculture in the public school system. He served as superintendent of the Sunday School, as deacon and as church organist. In 1946 he was ordained and became pastor of Holy Trinity Baptist Church in Buckingham County and of Galilee Baptist Church.
A partial list of things that were accomplished during Lawing's time as pastor as listed in the church's 100th anniversary book are - the modeling the church, adding an annex, adding a utility room, central heating system, well dug, installed lavatories; installed water fountain, complete banking system, carpet new pews, landscaped grounds and planted shrubbery, initiated annual days for men and women, reorganized the usher board, organized the junior choir, brought the Sunday School into the union and the convention."
Following Lawing's death in September of 1962, the Rev. Albert E. Davis was called as pastor and today is serving in that capacity.
With a total membership today of approximately 400, Galilee Baptist Church is still growing, still standing on a knoll as a "beacon light pointing the way to Christ."

Group plans paper drive

The Appomattox County Historical Society is planning a paper drive for this autumn.
Society members ask that county residents begin saving their papers now, to help them conserve trees.
Further details about the paper drive will be published in the Times-Virginian later this summer.
